COURSE DESCRIPTION AND LEARNING OUTCOMES:

General Objectives: The course Text Analysis 5 aims to prepare students for the most advanced level of English proficiency (CPE) by consolidating and deepening all four language skills: reading, listening, speaking, and writing. It also focuses on vocabulary enrichment, the development of linguistic style, and the enhancement of academic communication competencies.

Specific Objectives:

- 1.To read and understand in depth texts from various academic and professional fields.
- 2.To develop listening skills through authentic materials linked to specific tasks.
- 3.To improve writing skills at the Proficiency level, focusing on structure, style, and communicative purpose.
- 4.To develop advanced spoken language skills for interaction, negotiation, and expression of complex ideas.

Expected Learning Outcomes:

- 1.Students will be able to understand and interpret complex texts from various academic fields, communicate fluently in high-level registers, and produce accurate and appropriate writing for advanced contexts.
- 2.They will be able to analyze language style, implied meanings, and structures, as well as successfully meet the requirements of high-level English language proficiency assessments.
